◆ AI Overview

The phrase "everything with red hair kill it" originates from the video game Kill It With Fire, where it appears as an in-game objective or quote used while hunting spiders. YouTube · VapeChilla

If your father was discussing this, he was likely using an everyday large language model (like ChatGPT, Google Gemini, or Claude) to talk about video games, or he was generating a story with these AI tools.

To help narrow this down, please tell me:

- Was your father playing a game or having a conversation with the AI?
- Where did you see this phrase (in a text message, an email, or on a computer screen)?
