Your account has been recovered

You can now use your new security info to sign in to your account.

Here is a summary of what you've just completed:

The email address

3nomachinelatonytochicago33@gmail.com was added to your account

A new recovery code was created for your account

We highly recommend you turn on two-step verification. Two-step verification is an advanced security feature that makes it harder for someone to break in to your account with just a stolen password. Learn more about two-step verification and whether it's right for you.
