The elements you are looking for likely refer to the famous United Buddy Bears exhibition, an international art initiative that heavily involves UNICEF and features unique bear sculptures representing different countries.  Flickr

The United Buddy Bears Exhibition

- The Sculptures: The collection consists of around 140 two-meter-tall bear sculptures. While the default shape is a "Buddy Bear" (which can easily be mistaken for a panda or generic bear), each one is uniquely painted by an artist from a specific United Nations member country.  Flickr
- The Purpose & UNICEF: The tour travels the world to promote peace, international tolerance, and mutual understanding. It has raised over $2.2 million for UNICEF and various local children's advocacy organizations through public donations and charity auctions.  Flickr +1
- The Argentina Connection: The global tour made a massive stop in Buenos Aires, Argentina. The bears were displayed prominently in public squares, greeting travelers and locals alike.  Flickr +1

Other Notable Animal & Airport Art Concepts

If the artwork you remember was explicitly a panda bear, you might be thinking of one of these similar global public installations:

- The 1,600 Pandas World Tour: Created by French sculptor Paulo Grangeon in collaboration with the World Wildlife Fund (WWF), this exhibition featured 1,600 papier-mâché pandas. It famously took over major airport entrances and arrival halls (such as Hong Kong International Airport) to advocate for animal conservation.  Panda.org +2
- Airport "Kids Zones": Ezeiza International Airport (EZE) and Aeroparque Jorge Newbery (AEP) in Buenos Aires feature dedicated, vibrant Kids Zones and art installations meant to make terminal entrances friendly and welcoming for children.  Aeropuertos Argentina +2

Could you clarify if you are trying to find a specific year the exhibition took place, or if you are looking for a photograph of a particular bear sculpture?
