Elon Musk's private Boeing jet (a Boeing 737 previously registered as N154TS and owned by Falcon Aviation Holdings) is typically housed or operating out of Los Angeles International Airport (LAX). However, the exact real-time location changes daily, as it is occasionally used for SpaceX executive travel. Business Insider +1

Musk's primary mode of personal transport is currently his Gulfstream G800 (tail number N8628), which frequently shuttles between Austin, Texas, and San Jose, California. X · ElonJetNextDay +1
